

Differing Professional Opinions (DPO) Process: Annual Notification

PanTeXas Deterrence, LLC (PXD) is committed to ensuring that all subcontractor employees know they are free to raise Environmental, Safety, and Health (ES&H) technical concerns without fear of intimidation, reprisal or retaliation.

PXD subcontractor employees are encouraged to first report ES&H technical concerns in accordance with their firm's own established internal concern or complaint resolution systems in a good faith effort to resolve issues at the lowest possible level of the organization.

In certain instances, a subcontractor employee may decide that routine internal processes did not or cannot adequately resolve an ES&H technical concern. In such cases, PXD subcontractor employees also have the right to report ES&H technical concerns that have not been resolved through routine work processes through the Department of Energy (DOE) DPO process. DOE Order 442.2 establishes DOE's DPO process and associated requirements.

DOE's DPO process can be found in Attachment 2 of DOE Order 442.2 and on the DOE's DPO webpage located at: <http://energy.gov/ehss/doe-differing-professional-opinions>. If a decision is made to report a concern through the DOE's DPO process, the concern must be submitted to the appropriate DOE DPO Manager identified in the Table of Assigned DPO Managers located on the above website.

Questions about the DPO process can be directed to PXD's DPO Program Manager, Frank George, Jr. Frank can be contacted by telephone at 806-573-6801 or by email at: Frank.George@pantex.doe.gov.
